

vocational rehabilitation

from AXA ICAS, Europe's leading EAP provider

AXA ICAS provides a comprehensive service for managing complex or long term absence. Working through international and locally derived experience combined with expertise in evidence-based vocational rehabilitation, AXA ICAS ensures safe and sustainable return to work outcomes.

AXA ICAS has demonstrated skills, knowledge and experience in the early identification, assessment and management of issues which cause absence, including both psychological responses to physical ill health as well as mental health issues. AXA ICAS Return to Work Services restore capacity for work, whether the loss of functioning is physical, psychological or a combination of both. Through a national and international network of rehabilitation consultants, AXA ICAS also provides specialist services in the area of physiotherapy, occupational therapy, ergonomics and occupational health.

- Comprehensive assessment of the psychological and physical barriers to return to work
- Engagement of all key players, including medical practitioners, Human Resources, Occupational Health and line managers in a workplace-based outcome driven programme
- Case management proficiency to manage costs and outcomes
- Methodology that challenges the medical model
- Early intervention to increase the probability of a successful return to work
- Expertise in working with mental health and behavioural aspects of absence
- Innovation and partnership
- Evidence-based practice
- Integrated management information

Why use AXA ICAS Return to Work Services?

- 89% return to work rate
- The average absence after AXA ICAS intervention is less than four weeks
- 12:1 cost benefit ratio: for every pound spent on vocational rehabilitation/return to work services, £12 saved (HSE Managing Absence 2004)
- Rapid intervention with clear ground rules for all
- Rigorous and efficient assessment to get expectations clear
- Straightforward steps for Occupational Health and Human Resources to get your employee back to work quickly and safely
- Dramatic impact on business performance
- Assists in compliance with Disability Discrimination Act
